

STP Career Development Lunchtime Series
2012 Annual Symposium, Boston, MA
Monday, June 25th ~ 12:30 PM-1:30 PM

Careers in Environmental Toxicology
(Free Event, registration required)

Presented by the STP Career Development and Outreach Committee

Panelists and audience members will discuss a variety of careers in which toxicologic pathologists play an important role in the field of environmental toxicology. The session will allow attendees to become more familiar with this area of toxicologic pathology by direct interaction with a panel encompassing multiple subspecialties in the field. This topic is timely for the 2012 lunchtime series given the initiation of an interest group and scientific session focused on Environmental Toxicologic Pathology at the 2011 STP meeting.

Panelists for the lunchtime session include:

• Chemical Industry

David L. Eisenbrandt, DVM, PhD, DACVP, Dow AgroSciences LLC, Parker, CO

• Industrial Exposure

Ann Hubbs, DVM, PhD, DACVP, NIOSH, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Morgantown, WV

• Aquatic Species and Wildlife

Jeffrey Wolf, DVM, DACVP, EPL, Inc, Sterling, VA

• Academia/Respiratory

Dennis Wilson DVM, PhD, DACVP, UC Davis, Davis, CA

• National Toxicology Program

David E. Malarkey, DVM, PhD, DACVP, National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, Research Triangle Park, NC