

Apply for an STP Student Travel Award to Attend the STP 36th Annual Symposium

June 24-29, 2017 ~ Montréal, Québec, Canada

Student Travel Awards are available to graduate students for participation in the 36th Annual Symposium of the Society of Toxicologic Pathology. Each of the students who are chosen will receive a stipend (approximately $1,000 – varies yearly) to defray travel and lodging costs associated with attending the convention, complimentary meeting registration, and complimentary STP student membership for the following year. Recipients will be recognized during the awards ceremony prior to the Annual Business Meeting on Wednesday.

All recipients will be required to present a poster at the Symposium and submit an abstract describing their original work involving clinical or experimental research that relates to experimental or toxicologic pathology. Abstracts should be clear and complete with Introduction (including purpose/ justification), Methods, Results, and Conclusions sections. The letter of nomination, Curriculum Vitae, and statement of career goals will also be taken into consideration. Some trainees will be asked to give an additional short oral presentation concurrent with scientific sessions.

Eligibility:

To be eligible to compete for this award, trainees must be graduate students working in the field of experimental or toxicologic pathology or a related discipline (to include veterinary students, pathology residents [veterinary or medical] and/or MS or PhD students), and must be available to travel to Montréal, Québec, Canada to attend the meeting. Candidates who have recently completed their graduate studies (within 12 months of the application date) will also be eligible.

How to Apply:

1. Complete the Student Travel Award Application on the following page.
2. Ask your faculty advisor or a faculty member who is familiar with your work to submit a letter of nomination summarizing your qualifications.
3. Submit your Curriculum Vitae.
4. Include a statement of career goals in toxicologic pathology.

5. Return Student Travel Award application materials by March 15, 2017 to:
